

Library Assistants visit the Harry Potter Exhibition

As we work in the Library, which is a magical place, we were fortunate enough to go to the Harry Potter exhibition in London. The day began early as we departed from school. We were accompanied by 3 amazing teachers (Mrs Carey, Miss Ramsden and Mr Griffin/Mr Gryffindor!) and 25 students ranging from Years 7-10.

As we arrived at the fantastic exhibition, all around us were original artefacts, having some sort of connection to Harry Potter and magic, such as cauldrons, broomsticks, paintings and crystal balls. As well as this, we had a knowledgeable tour guide named Jeneba. We were shown around the exhibition, with lots of different rooms to do with the lessons that were taught at Hogwarts, such as Herbology, Defence Against the Dark Arts, Charms, Potions, Divination and Care of Magical Creatures. We had activity sheets that we had to fill in. For example, we had to make our own potions and spells. Our favourite activity was when we had to create our own magical creatures. My creature was an owlycorn (an owl and a unicorn) and Daniel's was a hippocorn (a hippogrif and a unicorn). Everyone had such an amazing time at the exhibition and we would all like to say thank you to the teachers that took us!

Grace Taylor & Daniel Austin, Year 7

I had the pleasure of taking 25 Library Assistants to the Harry Potter exhibition at the British Library, as a reward to say thank you for all of their hard work in the School Library over the last year. The exhibition was called 'Harry Potter - A History of Magic' and was a chance to see rare books, manuscripts and magical objects from the British Library's collection. The students were able to see original drafts and drawings by J.K. Rowling and illustrator Jim Kay, both on display for the first time. The students enjoyed creating their own beauty potions from lemon juice and horse dung, creating spells to have eternal knowledge and the ability to complete their homework instantly, and they particularly enjoyed telling the future in the Divination room, using crystal balls, tarot cards and palm reading. By the end of the exhibition we had 25 witches and wizards ready to bring some magic back to the Library at BGS!

What's new at Geography club "Passport to the World"

The second term brings two new activities in our club

We have taken over two planters around the school and planted bulbs ready for the spring. We are also going to grow giant sunflowers for a club competition in the spring and are thinking of some international vegetables. The project is in its early days, but we are super excited and are looking forward to seeing our plants thrive and grow.

Watch out, there is a globe about!

There is going to be a new competition in school. This involves following the clues to find mini globes that we are going to hide all over the school. Will you be able to find them?

We also continue to make globes and eat biscuits. If you would like to come along and join in then you need to be in M17, Mondays from 3.05pm.

Music News

On Friday 10th November everyone at BGS took part in various assemblies and form time activities for Remembrance Day. At 11am, we all paused for the two minute silence, to remember the moment that the armistice was signed, and to acknowledge the fallen soldiers of WWI, WWII and the 12,000 Brits who have died in combat since 1945. Traditionally, this silence is broken by a bugler playing The Last Post. This year, we had three trumpeters who performed this in different locations around the school. Well done to Katie Henderson (10MCA), Charlie Keeling (8RF) and James Warren (8JMP) for playing so musically and sensitively. It is not an easy job to know you're being listened to by hundreds of people, and made even harder when you are standing outside in the wind and rain!

Young Enterprise at Disney Headquarters, Hammersmith

On Monday 6th November, Bogna and I and represented the Young Enterprise team and headed up to Disney Headquarters in Hammersmith. After admiring the offices and chatting with other students in the same position as ourselves, we attended an extremely informative talk from prestigious members of the world famous company. They each discussed key elements contributing to business success, particularly in regard to marketing. This was highly engaging, and I found myself noting down more of their expert advice than I had expected! Once the talk ended, we were taken through to a lobby area where refreshments were provided and we had a chance to speak to those who gave the talks, who were just as lovely as expected. Overall, it was a thoroughly enjoyable experience, which helped to further my knowledge and that I believe will benefit our team a lot!
